

SCORES POLYGAMY AND SENATOR KNOX

Salt Lake City Pastor Asserts That Plural Marriages Are Increasing.

Practice Can Only Be Broken by Framing Laws Against Polygamous Living.

Pittsburg Senator Roundly Criticized for Defending Smoot and Others Join In.

Polygamy and those who would sanction it were mercilessly arraigned last evening at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address delivered by the Rev. William M. Paden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Salt Lake City, under the auspices of the National League of Women's Organizations.

Dr. Paden came to Washington especially for the purpose of lecturing on the true state of affairs in this section, and his address was most convincing. He went into details regarding the beginning of Mormonism in this country, when our forefathers did not know how to cope with it.

Cannot Prove Polygamy.

"There was a law against polygamy," he said, "but you had to prove a polygamous marriage. The United States, with all its detectives, cannot catch the Mormon in the act of actually marrying. The protection of the church and Mormon witnesses makes this impossible. It is against polygamous living that your laws must be framed."

Dr. Paden roundly scored Senator Knox for his defense of Senator Smoot. "Mr. Knox would have you sanction polygamy, sanction adultery, sanction this insidious destroyer of home ideals—on the ground of religious toleration."

Is Now Worse Than Ever.

Dr. Paden refuted the statement that polygamy was dying out. He said immediately after the manifesto from 1890 to 1895 it was not so openly practiced, but exclaimed:

"I challenge successful contradiction when I say that polygamy has been practiced more openly during the last five years than at any time since 1882. Joseph Smith, president of the church, lived more openly with his five wives than Brigham Young did with his twenty, while Brigham H. Roberts, with his third wife, a young girl whom he married within the last few years, after the manifesto, lives within half a block of my church."

Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, legislative secretary of the National W. C. T. U., made a short but eloquent plea for the preservation of the Christian home.

"Remember," she said, "the Gentiles have no representative from Utah in the Senate."

At the conclusion of her address the Rev. Frank M. Bristol, pastor of the church, before pronouncing the benediction, dramatically exclaimed:

"And I want to know if the Gentiles of Utah are not represented, if the Gentiles of Pennsylvania are represented by Senator Knox in the United States Senate, and if Reed Smoot is allowed to hold his seat—are the Gentiles of this nation represented in our Senate?"

Each question was answered by fervent "noes" from the audience.

SPECULATION PLUNDERING; SAYS POLITICAL ECONOMIST

"The Social Teachings of Jesus" was the subject of an address delivered yesterday by Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy and politics in Cornell University, before the men's mass meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association. The speaker applied the teachings of Jesus to the social and economic conditions of today. Commenting on suddenly acquired fortunes, the speaker said that the modern methods of securing wealth and property by speculation was nothing more nor less than plundering. There were great fortunes, said Dr. Jenks, that have been won in a serviceable way, but a great majority of such fortunes were not so won.

Reception for Dovenor, Retiring From Congress

West Virginia Representative Ending Notable Career in House.

The West Virginia Republican Association of Washington will give a reception and love feast the night of February 23, in honor of Blackburn Barrett Dovenor, of Wheeling.

Mr. Dovenor is ending a notable career of twenty years in Congress. He failed of renomination last summer, but his defeat was not a reflection on his services or his ability. The other man got the most votes in a primary and Dovenor accepted his defeat without grumbling. He has made seven campaigns for Congress in the Wheeling district. The first was in 1892, and those versed in political lore need not be told that 1892 was a very bad year for Republican candidates all over the country. Dovenor went down in defeat, but he made such a clever campaign that two years later he had an easy walk-in, and until last year had no opposition for renomination. Born in Cabell county, Va. (now West Virginia), sixty-five years ago, Dovenor was a Federal during the war and raised a company to fight the Confederacy. His only political office before he sat in Congress was that of representative in the Legislature.

Coming from near the Ohio river, Dovenor has been especially vigilant during his long service for river improvement, and is the ranking member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

He will be given a lively reception and a warm-hearted farewell when his West Virginia brethren convene a few days hence, and it is already tipped to the wire that some good appointive office will be given him before many months elapse.

Governor Dawson and Senator Elkins and Scott will attend the reception, and some clever speeches are expected.

This report was at the last meeting recommended to the committee. The committee will also submit a plan for the publication of a paper which shall be the official organ of the Board of Trade.

DEVELOP MORAL FORCE. SAYS J. ADAM BEDE

"American Ideals" was the subject of an address by Representative J. Adam Bede of Minnesota before a large audience at the Metropolitan M. E. Church yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bede said it is the duty of the church to develop the great moral force of the people, for it is through its influence that the country must expect to get its best laws.

At the meeting there was an appeal for aid in raising the debt of $4,000 which hangs over the North Capitol M. E. Church. The appeal was made by the Rev. A. Bielaski, pastor of the church, and a large sum was realized.

AMERICAN ARTISTS' EXHIBIT VIEWED BY OVER 20,000

OLD ARMY FAMILY LOSES A MEMBER

Capt. J. De B. W. Gardiner Dies at Maryland Estate.

Capt. John De Barth W. Gardiner, U. S. A., retired, a member of one of Maryland's best known military and Revolutionary families, the army record of which extends unbroken from a leader in the days of 76 down to a second lieutenant at the present time, has passed away at his home on the old Gardiner estate, at Gardiner, Md., according to information received by the War Department.

Capt. Gardiner was sixty-five years of age, began his military service in 1875, and was not retired until 1904, serving twenty-six years. He was promoted to a captaincy in 1890, within five years after his appointment. He had been incapacitated from duty for some time before his retirement, because of injuries received in the service at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

John De Barth W. Gardiner, a son of Captain Gardiner, is a second lieutenant in the Eleventh cavalry.

GEN. WILLIAMS BURIED IN ARLINGTON CEMETERY

Funeral services over the remains of Brig. Gen. James M. Williams, retired, who died Friday, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence, 1428 Chapin street, and burial made with full military honors.

The services were conducted under the auspices of the Loyal Legion, Chaplain Bradford, of that order, officiating. The funeral cortege was escorted to Arlington Cemetery by Troop G, Thirtieth Cavalry, and Chaplain Brown of Fort Myer, conducted the burial service.

CENSUS OFFICIALS ARE DISGRUNTLED

Cut in Appropriation, They Say, Will Hamper Their Work.

Money Not Sufficient to Secure Important Data in Field.

House Conferees Reduce Amount From $525,000 to $400,000.

The Census Office is in a panic because of the indisposition of Congress to provide for its wants as liberally as it has been hoping for.

In considering the legislative, executive, and judicial bill in conference, the House conferees are understood to have had their way with reference to one of the most important Census Office appropriations. This is the allowance that is described in the bill as "for securing information for census reports, provided for by law, semi-monthly report of cotton production, and periodical reports of the domestic and foreign consumption of cotton, per diem compensation of special agents, and expenses of the same and of detailed employees, the cost of transcribing State, municipal, and other records, the temporary rental of quarters outside of the District of Columbia for supervising special agents, and the employment by them of such temporary service as may be necessary in collecting the statistics required by law."

For these purposes, the main one of which relates to the employment of special agents to collect information, the House allowed $400,000. The Senate raised this sum to $525,000, which was about what Director North wanted in conference, according to word that has reached the Census Office, the allowance has been put back to $400,000.

As the result of the action in conference, Director North is sending out dispatches recalling various special agents from the field. According to Census Office officials, the reduction in the collection of information will be seriously crippled if but $400,000 is allowed for the purposes referred to.

Among many members of Congress, especially in the House Committee on Appropriations, there is a feeling that the allowance for special agents has not been used with the care that ought to be observed. It is alleged there has been a disposition to extravagance and that a needlessly long array of agents and employees has been retained for field service.

To Hitt's Memory Tributes Are Paid

Tribute to the memory of the late Representative R. R. Hitt of Illinois was paid in a session of the House that met at noon yesterday. Mr. Hitt served in Congress nearly twenty-five years.

Speaker Cannon presided while the eulogies were pronounced. The speakers were Representatives Louden, Clark of Missouri, Lacey, Foster, Payne, Dalglish, Boutell, Fuller, and Cousins, who succeeded Mr. Hitt as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

NEGROES GOING TO OKLAHOMA.

There has been an exodus of negroes from the Big Cane section (in the northern portion of the parish) to Oklahoma Territory, and the farmers and planters there are thereby suffering for the lack of sufficient hands. Many planters are without tenants, the ranks of their best year tenants having been depleted by the march on Oklahoma—Landry (La.) Clarion.

POTATO KING HERE, TELLS OF INDUSTRY

Says Maine Will This Year Ship 12,500,000 Bushels.

Can you imagine a mountain of potatoes?

Before this season is ended there will be shipped from Aroostook county, Maine, 25,000 carloads, or 12,500,000 bushels of potatoes, which, if piled, would make a mountain.

The directing head of this great business is in Washington, at the New Willard Hotel. He is E. L. Cleveland, of Houlton, Me., commonly known as "the potato king."

The magnitude of the potato industry which Mr. Cleveland heads may be appreciated when it is known that Aroostook county, Maine, is larger than the entire State of Massachusetts, and approximately 65,000 acres are in potatoes.

"Potatoes," said Mr. Cleveland, "are as tenderly cared for as infants. As soon as harvested they are put in frost-proof warehouses. From these warehouses they are sent through a vestibule to a warm car and are exposed thence to ships, never being transferred to the cold from the time they are harvested until they arrive at their destination."

Aroostook potatoes are shipped in two classes—table and seed. The greater portion of the latter are sent to the South, principally Texas. Of the table class a certain percentage find their way to the mouths of Washingtonians, for the District of Columbia figures largely as a market.

Mr. Cleveland says that this year's crop is the greatest he ever saw and he has been in the business twenty-nine years. The crops have been steadily increasing in immensity and value and the farmer folk of Aroostook county are the most prosperous in New England, for none of their potatoes go to waste, the unsalable, small, and decayed ones being sent to the starch mills.

IMAGINARY CURE BY FRENCH DOCTOR

PARIS, Feb. 18.—A school mistress of Clermont-Ferrand has just been cured by suggestion of a marvelous illness. She complained of pains in the abdomen and went to consult the physician of the town hospital, Dr. Rouques, about the matter.

"I know perfectly well what is the matter with me," she said, "it is a live frog I have in my stomach." The doctor tried to reason her out of her illusion, but finding this of no avail, he placed her under observation in his hospital. As the woman still continued to assert that she could hear the croaking of the frog in her interior, the doctor resolved to perform an imaginary operation.

He prepared an operating table, displayed a radiograph apparatus, bandages, lint, chloroform, etc., and sent the woman to sleep. On her awakening he showed her a small frog, which he said he had taken from her stomach, and that now she was free of it. She made haste to get well. The school mistress was greatly pleased and soon began to show marked improvement in her health.

The no longer complained of pains in her stomach, and a few days ago she declared herself so well that she wanted to resume her duties. This, however, the doctor refused to allow, saying gravely that she must lie in bed for a short while longer to recover completely from the operation.

NEGRO GETS PLUM IN NEW YORK P. O.

Colored Clerk Made Assistant Superintendent in Wall Street Branch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Alexander King, a negro postal clerk, after eighteen years' service in Uncle Sam's postal department, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Wall Street branch at a salary of $1,200 a year.

It is said the appointment has occasioned some feeling among certain of the white clerks. They seem to feel that the elevation of the negro is an affront upon them.

Postmaster Willcox asserts he merely followed the law; that the man was in line for promotion, and that to have passed him would have been unjust as well as illegal.

The salary King will receive, he said, is more than he had been receiving. King is said to have had the backing of Internal Revenue Collector Charles W. Anderson, but it was denied at the postoffice that politics had anything to do with the promotion.

'MESSAGE OF LOVE TO BLIND' BY MRS. FEARN, SATURDAY

Suffered Tortures With Terrible, Dry Eruptions Since Reaching Manhood—Doctors All Failed—Became Too Disfigured to Leave House—Now Well and Says:

CUTICURA REMEDIES WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

"I cannot help expressing to you my most sincere thanks for the benefit which I have derived from the use of Cuticura Remedies. They represent a perfect miracle and each set is worth its weight in gold to suffering humanity. Ever since the time I grew into manhood I have been suffering from a dry eruption which at times appeared very extensively, and at other times, but to a limited degree, on my body. I consulted a number of medical men without result, and last January I was affected with a terrible eruption on my hands, scalp, and face, which was so bad that I could not even leave the house, so I finally resorted to Cuticura."

"In the morning after breakfast I took a tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent, the same after dinner and supper. Three times a day I washed myself with Cuticura Soap, and three times a week I took a hot bath with Cuticura. Sooner than I expected Cuticura Ointment to the parts that were painful. So far my Cuticura Remedies represent an outlay of only a few dollars and I am completely restored to health, while formerly I had spent dollars upon dollars on doctors, remedies, and ointments without getting cured. Needless to say, I am quite ready to spend my last cent for Cuticura Remedies. Henry E. Knaping, 652 Eagle Ave., New York, N. Y., Feb. 16 and Mar. 15, 1906."

A FRIGHT WITH PIMPLES

Cuticura Soon Makes Skin Clear. "My face, a few months ago, was certainly a fright with pimples. I heard about Cuticura Remedies, and got Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. # Corby's Mother's Bread

IN THIS BREAD EVERY NUTRIENT QUALITY OF THE INGREDIENTS IS DEVELOPED

We invented and patented the mixing machines shown in the illustration, and their success in developing dough has led them to be adopted in the modern bakeries all over the civilized world.

THE MIXING MACHINES

They work practically automatically. But little of one man's time is required. He simply works the levers that let in the flour and other ingredients, and the machinery does the rest. Filtered air is blown into these machines while at work---the room is maintained at an even temperature---the mixers are set to operate a certain time, which has been proven correct for obtaining the desired result. There is never a chance of the dough of Corby's Mother's Bread falling below the highest standard.
